DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. This action is made final because any rejections made were necessitated by the amendments made in the 12/3/08 and 7/3/09 amendment. The examiner sent out a restriction in response to the 12/3/08 and 7/3/09 amendments.
2. The applicant petitioned the office to have the examiner withdraw the restriction set forth in the previous office action. The restriction set forth in the previous office action is withdrawn.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 2-4,10-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. Claims 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 5 recites " " wherein a passing frequency band permitted to pass in each of the primary filter is set to decrease from the speakers positioned at opposite end portions of the speaker array to the speaker or speakers positioned at a central portion of the speaker array. " The specification teaches that the number of speakers to be allocated to each of the frequency bands is made to decrease as the frequency increases (page 8, line 20-22, page 12, lines 16-18, page 18, lines 15-17). The specification does not disclose wherein a passing frequency band permitted to pass in each of the primary filter is set to decrease from the speakers positioned at opposite end portions of the speaker array to the speaker or speakers positioned at a central portion of the speaker array. Therefore the decrease language constitutes new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Furuta et al. (JP 06-225379).

Regarding claim 1, prior art Furuta (discloses a speaker system (Figure 6) comprising: a speaker array including a plurality of speakers which are arranged into a matrix (loudspeaker arrays, 2, 3 Figures 1 and 6; 0019 under EXAMPLE section); and a sound signal processing unit that divides a sound source into a plurality of bands and divides the speaker array into a plurality of reproduction regions so as to allocate the bands to the divided reproduction regions, respectively, the band of a high frequency being allocated a smallest one of the reproduction regions (Figure 6 illustrates that the high pass filter is allocated to one speaker; the one speaker reads on a smallest one of the reproduction regions), wherein the frequency band with a highest passing frequency is allocated to the reproduction region with a smallest number of speakers (Figure 6 illustrates that the high pass filter is allocated to one speaker; the one speaker reads on a smallest one of the reproduction regions).

The examiner asserts that the number of speakers allocated to each of the reproduction regions is a matter of design choice. It would have been obvious to modify Furuta so that the number of speakers allocated to each reproduction region is different for the benefit of meeting a design choice and producing a desired output.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
